

showError

Nuxt provides a quick and simple way to show a full screen error page if needed.

Within your pages, components and plugins you can use `showError` to show an error.

Parameters:

- `error : string | Error | Partial<{ cause, data, message, name, stack, statusCode, statusMessage }>`

```
showError("💩 Oh no, an error has been thrown.") showError({ statusCode: 404, statusMessage: "Page Not Found" })
```

The error is set in the state using `useError()` to create a reactive and SSR-friendly shared error state across components.

`showError` calls the `app:error` hook.

👉 Read more in Docs > Getting Started > Error Handling.

Edit on Github

© 2016-2023 Nuxt - MIT
License

Enterprise

Design Kit
Nuxt Studio

NuxtLabs

