From contributors to advocates, the community is made of members with different horizons and skills. We are happy to see new members every day and encourage anyone to help in any way (answering questions, giving a talk, creating modules and contributing to the core).

Sharing is caring

1. Hundreds of conferences, meetups and workshop all around the world since the creation of Nuxt.

2. An active contribution on the framework but also on the different Nuxt open source projects: bug fixes, pull requests...

3. A lovely and precious help to teach you, help you and nuxtify the world.
